Last Day for Year 12s –

Today is the last official day for Year 12s. Students and staff were greeted this morning by a range of clever and humorous pranks. It would seem that these students had a fun setting these up last night and this morning. I sincerely hope that today is a memorable milestone. They have been a fantastic group of students and a pleasure to teach. We will miss them. We wish all of our Year 12 students the very best for the exams that begin with English on Wednesday. Many of our Year 11 students are studying at least one Year 12 subject this year, so we wish them the very best for their exams also.

Kindy Transition –

Next year's Preps have begun their Transition program in earnest this week. These students will be visiting the school every week for a number of weeks and taking part in a range of school readiness activities, both with Mrs Wyatt and in some of our specialist areas. Check out details of this week's visit on pages 3 & 4.

World Teachers Day –

Today is the day Australian schools observe 'World Teachers Day'. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of our wonderful teachers who inspire, encourage, and mentor our future leaders and community members. In doing so they help shape the knowledge and values of our society. This is a truly important profession, where you can make a difference to others' lives, each and every day. I would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge the commitment and professionalism of the teaching team at MCC. They always put the students first and work tirelessly to ensure their continued growth, not only academically, but as a whole person. Our teachers were spoilt with a surprise morning tea provided by Chaplains Barb and Paul this morning. We appreciate their kindness across so many areas of the school.

Starting School

We had a fantastic transition visit with the Kindy Kids on Wednesday. We participated in some literacy and numeracy activities and had a school tour with our buddies, as well as some play time with them and our other school friends.

We are looking forward to next week's visit when we will be taking part in a design and technology lesson as well as some more hands-on learning activities.

Buddies

YU GI OH

A new craze with the secondary students, who have been introduced to Yu-Gi-Oh! Lunchtimes in the library have seen several very enthusiastic competitors in this Japanese card game.

holiday fun

On the first day back at school the 5/6 students wrote down their favourite part of their school holidays. Students used their VCOP skills, especially their high level vocabulary, to describe that special moment for their class mates. Each student was then randomly given another students memory. They then had a descriptive recount of another classmate's holiday, and from this created a collage of the moment, that they then presented to the class.
